

Please do not weaken the Indiana Telephone Privacy Laws to allow contact by firms claiming to have an established business relationship with consumers. Over the course of time, we consumers enter into and terminate several "business relationships". If every one of the firms I have had a relationship is allowed free access to my phone line, I would not be able to enjoy my current quality of life as I have grown to expect under the current laws. Please resist any change.